

105.1605

Case - Timothy N. Pfeiffer,
Subject - Homicide, New Brunswick, N.J.,
Investigation - Mr. DEM.

312 / report

December 1, to December 9, 1922, inclusive. Learned that a Mrs. Perkins who works for the "New Brunswick Home News," has had an affair with a Mr. Boyd who is one of the owners of the said paper. The Boyd family consists of Arthur Boyd, who is married and lives somewhere in New York; William Boyd, who is married to the daughter of Dan O'Day, a wellknown business man; and Elmer Boyd who is up until the present time connected with the "New Brunswick Home News." Old man Boyd is now married to his fourth wife - Two died, and one divorced him. The chief reporter of the said paper, who also holds an interest there, is a Mr. Danny Ray.

Also learned that Mrs. Perkins at one time was married to a Robert Beardsley, who was found dead in Norfolk Harbor. The rumor was that he was a bootlegger and had been murdered.

I also received an additional statement from Mrs. Mills, who is Jim Mills' mother. She informed me that Eleanor Mills attended school with her daughter Molly, and that Eleanor's mother put her out when she was quite young - The talk at that time was that Eleanor had had an affair with a man named Manson, who is at present working in Abraham's shoe store in New Brunswick, N.J. Also that Mrs. Mills had thought Eleanor had had an affair with Gorsline; this was about nine years ago - Mrs. Mills tried to verify this, but was unable to get anything definite; she would see Gorsline with Eleanor and other girls. Mrs. Mills' daughter Molly was told about this affair by her mother while she was in California visiting her, and Molly advised her mother to convey this information to Mr. Hall - Instead of telling it to Mr. Hall, Mrs. Mills told it to a Mrs. Charles Stryker, whose husband at that time was employed by the Hall's. Mrs. Stryker said that she did not think there was anything to it.. While Eleanor was in the hospital she was visited by Mrs. Mills - Eleanor said, "See what the Choir has sent me," referring to